“ I just yesterday found out about David's passing and offer my deepest sympathy for his family. I wish things could have turned out differently.

Today would have been your 58th Birthday. I wish you were still here to at least meet Jason. When I told him of your passing that was the one thing he told me "I wish I could have at least met him" I know your not here but I wanted you to know I never told Jason anything bad about you or what had happened in our relationship. I wanted him to have his own image of how his father should have been.

“ My brother, my friend. I will love you forever. Your knowledge guided me in life. Your conversations influenced my path. Life will not be the same without you. We shared so much and I take comfort in our belief that death is only the beginning. May the gods set you among them in everlasting peace.
