

Lindsay M Graves

March 14, 1949 - May 3, 2026

Lindsay Graves was born in Fayetteville, North Carolina, on March 14th, 1949. Lindsay was a devoted mother, grandmother, family member, and friend whose life was defined by sacrifice. She was the kind of person who always put her children first, giving everything she had, even during times when she had very little herself. Whether it was her last dollar or a warm meal, she gave from the heart without hesitation. Her strength, generosity, and unwavering care touched everyone who knew her. No matter the challenges she faced, she made sure her children felt supported and deeply loved.

Lindsay's love was quiet, strong, and unconditional. Life was not always kind to her, and she carried more pain and burdens than most people ever knew. However, during the hardest times, she continued to give everything she had to the people she loved most. She did her best to guide and care for her family, even during times when her children made mistakes or lost their way. No matter how difficult things became, she never stopped showing love, forgiveness, and concern for them. Her strength was found not in a perfect life, but in her ability to keep loving through the pain. She taught those around her the true meaning of perseverance, compassion, and a mother's unconditional devotion.

Lindsay was preceded in death by her parents, Rober and Phyllis Linton, and her brother, Robert Linton Jr. She is survived by her sister, Lorraine Johnston; her brother, Richard Linton; her husband of 12 years, Albert Graves; her sons, David Williams and Kevin Fulkerson; her daughters, Teri Stewart and Kara Gonzalez, and her daughter-in-law, Ashley Fulkerson.

She is also survived by her grandchildren, Kylee Williams, Maddox Williams, Katelyn Romans, Megan Romans, Aden Fleischer, Kamron Fulkerson, Keyan Fulkerson, Karson Fulkerson, Khloe Fulkerson, and one expected grandchild; as well as her great-grandchildren, Alyssa Schumm, and Santiago Soto Jr.

Lindsey Graves was a beautiful, marvelous woman, and she will be deeply missed by all who knew her. Her memory will continue to bring laughter, comfort, and love to those whose lives she touched.
