“ Lonnie, I know we hadn't been close for many years. As life takes people different directions but if I had A dollar for every time I told a story about one of our adventures I would be living in Trump Tower. I was saddened to hear we won't get the chance to reminisce together, but know in my heart we will see each other again one day. Peace and Love to your family and friends, and rest easy until we meet again.
