

William Haydn Kutch

May 4, 1957 - July 2, 2024

Haydn was born on May 4, 1957 in Boston, MA to his loving parents, William Clay and Phoebe Elizabeth (Jenkins) Kutch. As soon as he was old enough, he flew to Texas to spend 6 weeks each summer with his cousins and family in Wellington. He loved Texas and moved there permanently to Canyon, TX after high school graduation in California to attend college, where he pursued his degree in psychology. He always said he never felt at home in California where his parents and oldest sister made their family home. After the early death of his mother when he was 11 years old, he and his dad lived many places around the globe for his dad's work with Lockheed Aircraft. A few of the places included Japan and the Aleutian Islands of Alaska. Haydn was an expert marksman and private pilot. He was always learning about new things and had an extremely high IQ. He was an excellent guitarist and songwriter and his sweet spirit will forever be remembered.

He was preceded in death by his mother, father and sister, Susan, along with his Wellington, TX grandparents; aunts; uncles and his uncle, Haydn Jenkins of Swansea, Wales.

Hadyn is survived by 8 cousins.
